

2015 Annual Meeting & Tour Second Deep Bottom Battlefield

SATURDAY, October 24, 10:00 a.m.
Free and open to the public

This year RBA returns to Fussell's Mill. A lot has happened since we last met there six years ago. In addition to the 32-acre mill site, RBA has pieced together a 25-acre tract of core battlefield north of the mill pond. This was the scene of intense fighting on August 16, 1864.

Historian James S. Price will be our guest speaker. Jimmy is author of "The Battle of First Deep Bottom" and "The Battle of New Market Heights", from the Civil War Sesquicentennial Series, and a frequent weblog contributor.

Come tour the new property with Mike Andrus, retired Richmond National Battlefield Park historian and current RBA board member. See progress on the 19th century miller's house restoration. Our annual business meeting will follow the tour. Hikers should wear appropriate footwear and clothing for the season. Snacks and drinks will be provided.
